Fenny is last 16 of county cup

FENITON marched in to the last 16 of the Graddon Vending sponsored Devon Premier Cup with an 11-0 annihilation of visiting Putford at Acland Park. The visitors had no answer to Charlie Selley who struck six times!

Colaton Raleigh also recorded a fine cup win as they beat Hideaway Café 5-4.

Rikki Pitter bagged a hat-trick for Raleigh who came from behind three times and played for 55 minutes with 10 men.

Raleigh are now in the quarter-finals of the Fireplace Devon Senior Cup where they will be joined by Honiton Town who beat Brixham AFC 4–2 at Mountbatten Park, Darren Witt, Tim Genders, Ryan Dunn and Ben Price (pen) scored for the Lacemen who return to Fresh Devon & Exeter League division one action on Saturday with the visit of Halwill while Colaton Raleigh entertain Clyst Valley Reserves.

In the same division Sidmouth Town Reserves went down 2-1 at home against Exeter Civil Service and will hope for better when they travel to fellow mid-tablers Topsham Town.

NEWS AT A GLANCE IN EAST DEVON THIS WEEK

AXMINSTER

Teenage driver dies in crash

SKY lanterns have been released in memory of an Axminster teenager who died in a car crash last Wednesday.

Tragedy struck when 18-year-old Tom Chubb's black Porsche collided with a van on the A358 at Musbury at about 10.20pm on October 31st.

Emergency services rushed to the scene, near Trill, but the teenager died at the scene.

Tom, the son of businessman and East Devon District Council member Iain Chubb, a keen motoring enthusiast, was the only occupant of his car.

The 44-year-old driver of the van and the one passenger escaped serious injury.

Floral tributes have been laid at the crash site along with other tributes including a car radio and bottles of his favourite cider.

Approximately 70 friends of the car-mad youngster met at Bottle Inn, Marshwood, one of his favourites pubs, the night after the accident to pay their own tributes.

On Friday evening, a similar number of friends gathered in the car park at Axminster Railway Station.

Tom's family was at the front of a procession in one of his cars, a Volkswagen Bora.

The procession drove to Exmouth, where sky lanterns were released in his memory.

A close friend of the family, who did not wish to be named, said: "It was quite overwhelming for everyone involved."

From the editor's chair Here is the sad travel news

IT'S always sad when a long established business closes but doubly so when it provides a service that has been much in demand over the years.

There will be many in and around Axminster who will regret the pending closure of Bath Travel in George Street from where thousands of holidays have been booked and arranged for local people over the years.

We are not able to officially confirm the reasons why a branch of one of the South West's most successful travel agents has decided to close its Axminster branch.

We also understand that the Chard branch is closing as well.

No one from Bath Travel's head office in Bournemouth was available to speak to us this week as the only person able to do so was in Majorca.

Local staff were instructed not to speak to the press, which is understandable and usually the case in such circumstances,

The Axminster branch employed five staff, although the manager was the only full-time member. We can only assume that the decision has been made in the light of the continual difficult trading conditions.

Bath Travel has built up a fine reputation over the years with 64 branches in the South West and specialised in reasonably priced cruises, bringing that form of luxurious holiday within the price range of many more people.

Bath Travel occupy prime premises in George Street and it is to be hoped that these get snapped up quickly. With Webster's eyesore still festering just around the corner, Axminster does not need any more long term empty shops.

There has been some encouraging news on the economy in recent weeks with the politicians telling us we are coming out of recession. Really?

I'm not sure there are many people running businesses in Pulman's Country, with a few notable exceptions, who would agree with that judgement but there are signs that there is some light at the end of the austerity tunnel.

Let's hope so.

SEATON C

Another food bank for those in need

SEATON is the latest East Devon town to offer a food bank to those in need.

Food banks already exist in Honiton and Axminster and 'food poverty in Axe Valley' means there is demand in Seaton too.

Foodbank in Seaton is a project overseen by Christians Together in Seaton, supported by all the churches in the town and many many other local organisations and individuals.

Foodbank in Seaton secretary Simon d'Albertanson said: "Inspired by food banks and aware of the reality of 'food poverty' in the Axe Valley, a group of like-minded individuals spent the last few months researching and planning the practicalities of opening a food bank in Seaton.

"The aim of the food bank is simple; to provide a nutritionally balanced supply of food to anyone within the Seaton area who has no food and no means of obtaining food for a minimum of three days.

"There are many reasons why people might find themselves in emergency food poverty; an unexpected large bill, a sudden change or stop in income or benefits or even a loss of money due to a fraudster or a scam."

Foodbank in Seaton welcomes donations of nonperishable food at any of the churches in Seaton, Axmouth, Beer and the town hall in Seaton.

OTTERY St MARY

Plans for 165 homes

A MASSIVE housing development has been proposed for Ottery St Mary.

A company named Prockter Land LLP has signalled its intention to build 165 homes and a residential care home on land between Barrack Road and the bowls and cricket clubs.

The developer says the proposal would boost population and "increase viability" of the town.

Details of the major outline planning application were made public by East Devon District Council (EDDC) last week

The application also involves provision of public open space, landscaping and associated infrastructure.

The design and access statement alone runs to 35 pages and informs that "a proportion" of the 165 homes would be affordable, and that the care home would have 60 beds.

The developer also said in the statement: "The development will bring forward much-needed new market and affordable housing – and in doing so create a larger population which will help contribute to enhancing Ottery St Mary in the future by increasing the viability of the town centre and supporting existing facilities."

COLYFORD

Farmer elected freeman of borough

WELL-KNOWN local farmer and historian, Colin Pady, has been made the first ever Freeman of the Ancient Borough of Colyford.

The honour was bestowed on Mr Pady at the annual general meeting of Colyford Burgesses on Friday evening, when Howard West was also named as new Mayor of Colyford.

Mr Pady was recognised for his work in the village and efforts put into many local organisations and events, particularly the Goose Fayre, which he helped to re-establish about 30 years ago.

The proposal to make Mr Pady a Freeman of the Borough came from the Mayor and was seconded by Geoff Marshall, who said: "There is no doubt that Colin thoroughly deserves the honour of becoming a Freeman of the Ancient Borough of Colyford.

"He is not only renowned for his work for the village but also, over many years, has been heavily involved in establishing, helping, and taking a major part in many of our local organisations.

"He has served as our Mayor on several occasions, which entailed plenty of work for the Borough and also organising Borough meetings, Mayor's dinners and Beating of the Bounds. Thirty odd years ago he re-established our very popular Goose Fayre, and much of the work in setting up and dismantling the fayre would not be possible without the tireless contribution of Colin and his tractor."

SIDMOUTH

Angry residents march on Knowle

THOUSANDS of protestors met at Sidmouth's Port Royal for a mass rally to protest against East Devon District Council's proposals for regeneration and redevelopment.

Led by the Save our Sidmouth (SOS) group who have been fighting for months against the local development plan, the rally attracted more than 3500 people, who came from across East Devon carrying placards and chanting against the council plans.

Chairman Richard Thurlow and spokesman Robert Crick led the SOS group, which is made up of members of the Sid Vale Association, Chamber of Commerce, Vision Group for Sidmouth and the Hospitality Association.

Mr Thurlow addressed the huge crowd at Port Royal saying: "Our focus is the opposition towards the council's plan to destroy our areas of outstanding natural beauty and to take away 30 per cent of our parkland here in Sidmouth by taking away the Knowle and replacing it with 50 homes and a residential home.

"We are overwhelmed and grateful to the huge number of people here today from all over East Devon – from Seaton and Beer to Budleigh Salterton, Feniton, Honiton, Tipton St John and Ottery St Mary crowds at Port Royal saying: "Our focus is the opposition towards the council's plan to destroy our areas of outstanding natural beauty and to take away 30 per cent of our parkland here in Sidmouth by taking away the Knowle and replacing it with 50 homes and a residential home.

Mr Crick added: "There is a magnificent amount of people here and it really shows that people power works. We are here to make Diviani hear us.

"This is the people of East Devon standing up for human need, not corporate greed.'

Dr John Withrington, chairman of Fight For Feniton's Future said: 'We were really pleased that Feniton was asked to be present at the rally and take a prominent place the very front.

"It was a good opportunity to show the world that Feniton not to be pushed around.

'We aren't NIMBYs. The community, together with Feniton Parish Council, identified where new building could go in the village, but away the power of choice, and imposed on us an unwanted and inappropriate housing estate, larger than the village needs.'

Among the protestors were members of the Green Party who put forward their concerns of the original conservative party leaflets which claimed to protect East Devon from over development, something they believe is not happening.

Vice Chairman of the Knowle Residents' Association. Northover was also present at the demonstration and said: "We are not against development and housing and we would be happy if development and building was happening in a sensible way.

"I have young grandchildren myself who will need to be housed at some point however I believe that these proposals are merely greedy."

The thousands of protestors walked through Sidmouth up to the Knowle headquarters where they were greeted by a number of senior councillors including EDDC Leader, Councillor Paul Diviani, who offered the marchers warm teas and coffees to warm them up on the chilly morning.

Councillor Diviani and other members of the senior team at EDDC offered protesters two leaflets – one explaining the ration-

Two more candidates take

Local Plan and another one outlining the council's work to do "what's right for the district".

Councillor Diviani emphasised that the move to Honiton would go ahead only if cost neutral so far as council taxpayers are concerned, and the viability study will be considered early in the New Year.

Councillor Diviani also addressed another concern by saying: "One thing is clear though - Sidmouth will not be losing a park.

"A significant proportion of the parkland will remain in public ownership and be publicly accessible.

On the wider issues around planning for the district as a whole, he said: "We're preparing new planning guidance for the whole of East Devon and for each of the communities that together make up our lovely district.

"It's called the Local Plan and it started under the previous government's planning regime.

We're aware that it's unlikely we will ever achieve a plan that everyone supports. Whilst we are trying to find a consensus in favour of most of the proposals, we also have to ensure our ideas are acceptable to a government that has signalled that it wants councils to encourage sustainable development."

AFTER SERIOUS ACCIDENT IN NEW ZEALAND

Tina returns to her native Devon to continue her music ambitions

MUSICIAN and former expat is preparing for her first Devon winter in 10 years, having returned from the generally warmer climes of New Zealand.

Tina Bridgman is a former Seaton resident and Axminster Secondary School head girl who moved to Sidmouth after a decade in New Zealand.

She started her working life at Barclays Bank in Axminster but now earns a living as a musician and guitar teacher despite having lost her left arm.

A Paralympic mindset was needed when Tina woke up in a hospital bed in New Zealand after a car accident in 2004

But let's rewind the tape.

Tina and her family moved to Seaton when she was eight, and her interest in music started in earnest during her early teens

She attended Axminster Secondary School (now Axe Valley Community College) and excelled by becoming head girl.

After leaving the school she got a job with Barclays Bank in Axminster and she also joined a band called

Her fellow band members were Andy Cable, David Somers, Alan West and David Hill - and Tina recalled: "Even though I couldn't play keyboard, I was the keyboard player and backing vocalist."

The band toured venues in the southwest for about two

In 1990, Tina wanted to "spread her wings" and went to Australia.

From Australia she went to New Zealand for six months and fell in love with the country.

Her guitar was an ever present companion and talking about her time overseas, she said: "I had my first busking experience and performed my own material to sit-down audiences.'

But her visa expired and Tina returned to Devon.

After one term studying at Dartington Music College, she moved around the UK and spent much time in the Brighton area.

my first thought

In 1993 she had her first solo gig and she break from music then joined a 13piece group which performed at festivals across the UK over three years.

She subsequently joined a contemporary folk group as a backing vocalist, drummer and percussionist.

The yer 1999 proved to be significant as Tina recorded her first album - Hearth - with musicians Richard Osborne

The trio took the name Hearth and a second album -Deep Sun Inside - materialised in 2002 after which Tina took a break from music and returned to New Zealand.

She developed various skills and one source of income was making candles.

But things took a turn for the worse in July 2004. She lived in Golden Bay, South Island, got a lift to work and the car hit black ice and smashed into a tree.

The driver was OK but Tina was airlifted to hospital with a broken collar bone and a badly damaged hand, which doctors had to amputate.

She said: "Even though I had a break from music when it happened, my first thought was that I wouldn't be able to play guitar or swim again."

But she has found ways of doing both, and is full of praise for the health service in New Zealand.

She was taken through the rehabilitation process and said: "I felt really supported and motivated to get back on

"They said: 'You are basically a musician, so how are we going to get you back to it?"

The answer was to send her on courses involving sound therapy, voice exploration and sound engineering.

She progressed to give voice and guitar lessons, and said: "I had never taught before but I was surprised how much I enjoyed it."

As time passed, though, Tina developed a case of homesickness and returned to the UK in March this year.

If it is permanent or not remains to be seen as she still has her stuff in storage in New Zealand.

She said: "I really missed Devon the last couple of years. I'm going to give it a go, it will be my first winter here for 10 years.'

Adopting the motto "if you can talk you can sing", Tina held a voice workshop in Axminster on Saturday in the Christian Fellowship Hall, Musbury Road, which could be the first of many similar events.

To find out more and book a place, call Pat Hicks 01297 32838 or e-mail pathicks@btinternet.com

Tina is also doing a sponsored swim in aid of Aspire, which supports people with spinal injuries.

SLADES in Honiton is embracing change after recently moving to the town's Heathpark Estate.

Following the sale of the original Slade's Garden Centre and Pet Store on the corner of the Turk's Head Junction in 2008, Peter Scott Allen and his wife Sarah took over and for the last four years have concentrated on the pet supply side of the business. This year they decided to relocate the pet warehouse to the Heathpark Estate to continue the legacy of the 30-year-old business.

Slades Pet Warehouse operates both from a store on Duchy Road and a collection warehouse on Gloucester Close, where customers have the chance to still get their vital pet supplies, wild bird feeds and small holding farm feeds as well as coal, logs and solid fuels.

With the recent move, Slades Pet Warehouse have had to reconfigure how they operate, working from two warehouses, one to pick up smaller supplies and order larger heavier bulk buys, and a second warehouse which works as a collection point for larger items with a focus on the wholesale and bulk trade in line with many operations within the Heathpark Estate.

Following the relocation at the beginning of September, the main focus has been to ensure that regular and new customers can fit comfortably into the new set up and are still able to pick up their regular supplies.

Mr Scott Allen said: "Most important is that our options were to either close completely or quickly find a way to remain in business for our customers of thirty plus years as well as the many new customers who we come in to contact with so often. "Our emphasis is still on providing the best price, service and staff that we can, whilst continuing our service to the "There has been confusion, where existing customers have seen the old site empty and presumed we have gone completely or have been muddled by the two new sites on the Heathpark Estate.

"However, once customers give it a go, they seem to be really happy with the new set up and are spreading the

"The set up is fairly simple- visitors to the store can first visit our pet warehouse which has all the smaller pet supplies on offer and there they can also order and pay for their heavier bulk items. Then all they need to do is drive less than a minute down the road to our warehouse, park up and we can load up their car for them before they are on their way again.

"It has been a mammoth task but Sarah and I are absolutely happy with the set up and we now have a whole new degree of certainty.

"We look forward to continuing our work and improving our business and we are looking forward to what the future on the Heathpark Estate will bring."

Slades Pet Warehouse is open from Monday to Saturday, 8.30am until 5.30pm. For more information visit www.sladeshoniton.co.uk or call 01404 45966.

the new tactile radio

PATIENTS and residents at Seaton Hospital with visual impairments now have a new form of entertainment thanks to the Seaton & District Lions Club and the British Wireless for the Blind foundation.

A tactile radio – for those that are visually impaired or without sight - was donated to the hospital by members of the Seaton and District Lions Club, after Lion John Barrington Rowell requested the support on behalf of the British Wireless for the Blind charity.

After suffering with loss of sight himself, Mr Barrington Rowell found out first hand how important these radios could be, giving him the opportunity to catch up on important news, listen to his own music and enjoy entertainment whilst being easy to use without support from another person.

The radio is a versatile audio player featuring a CD, USB slot and cassette player, talking newspaper and 10 preset talking channels. It's easy to use for those with visual impairments with touchy feely buttons, hi visibility yellow controls and a large, easy to read LCD display

Ninety-year-old Iris Brightwell is just one of the residents at Seaton Hospital with a visual impairment and was one of the first to try out the new radio.

She said: "I think the new radio is just excellent. I can't really watch television properly so it was nice just listening to the radio in short bursts alongside other residents in my room.

"The talking newspaper is just marvellous and it will help keep us entertained during the long davs.'

Matron of Seaton Hospital, Emma Bagwell added: "We are very grateful to the Lions and to John for their donation of the new radio.

"We will mainly use it for news with the talking newspaper as it keeps patients up to date and keeps that connection with the

"We are also planning on getting some story books and novels to play through the CD player or from a USB stick to spark imagination, as all the residents enjoyed listening to it. "

President of the Seaton and District Lions, Neil Rutter, was pleased to hand over the radio and said: "We are very thankful to our fellow Lion and voluntary agent for the British Wireless for the Blind, John, for coming up with the idea to support the hospital.

'We are looking forward to hearing about the great use of the radio and the positive change it will make for hospital staff and residents alike.'

Halloween fun at town hall

Seaton's Voice organise spooky children's party

AS PART of their children's entertainment programme, Seaton's Voice hosted a Halloween Party last week.

Much to their surprise, over 150 children - along with parents who made it more than 200 in total packed the hall for ghoulish antics.

The venue was fully decorated for the occassion and there was also a smoke machine.

Paul Hotchkiss set the scene with spooky lighting. Halloween dance music and carved pumpkin and fancy dress competitions added to the atmosphere.

Activites included creepy cake decorating, mummy wrap, vampire doughnut attack, horrid hand lunge, ghostly forest walk and pass the grizzly parcel.

Roger Grose rounded off the evening to a fitting close with ghostly storytelling.

Tesco helped support the event by providing vouchers towards the food, drinks and sweets for all the children

The group had a great response from parents and children who thoroughly enjoyed the party with many requests for Seaton's Voice to organise a Christmas Party this December.

A spokesperson for Seaton's Voice said: "We are absolutely thrilled with the success of the Halloween party, which we would love to make an annual event, and look forward to planning a Christmas party as requested.'

The next event on Seaton's Voice calendar is a family matinee screening of the film 'Brave' on November 17th.

Former Racal site is priority for Seaton

FOLLOWING the decision by East Devon District Council Development Management Committee not to approve the final planning application enabling development at the derelict former Racal site to take place, Seaton Town Council held an extraordinary meeting on Thursday, Octo-

Members were unanimous in their response that it was a priority for the town that this development commences.

The site, which is seen as vital for the economic input into the town, is a brownfield site that will bring in much needed public facilities for the town as well as providing homes for 90 families who will spend money with businesses.

The developer was also due to provide a crucial flood defence scheme, without which no other development on the site can take place.

Attendees at the meeting heard that the town council was very disappointed to learn that development management members had put their desire for affordable homes for the district ahead of the specific needs of Seaton, as well as ahead of EDDC's own stated policies to regenerate the town.

Many members of the public spoke up in support of the Axe Riverside Seaton Quay proposal and were concerned that time was running out for the application.

If all reserved matters are not agreed by EDDC by spring of 2013, then the current application would lapse and the development would not take place, resulting in no planning gains for the town at Seaton Town Council resolved to respond to the EDDC Development Management Committee by asking them to reconsider their decision for the future of the town.

The town council urges residents to write to Cllr Mark Williamson, Chairman of the Development Management Committee, EDDC, Knowle, Sidmouth EX10 8HL or e-mail mwilliamson@eastdevon. gov.uk, requesting him to allow this decision to be reviewed.

The town council also asks that all those who have written to the paper to express their views about this issue should also now write to Cllr Williamson to let him know how they feel.

SEATON has been selected by central government as a Town Team Partner.

The initiative is spearheaded by the Department for Communities and Local Government and will see Seaton receive an element of funding and access to a national multi-million pound government support package.

The award comes on the back of the Portas Pilot following an application made through local MP Neil Parish.

As a result, Seaton Town Development Team can start delivering some of the projects identified to encourage greater activity in the town centre.

As a Town Team Partner Seaton will be able to receive advice and information from the Government including:

llage hall celebrates completed renovations of a long programme of refurbishment works at their village hall.

Colyford Memorial Hall was officially re-opened following renovations on Saturday afternoon. An opening ceremony was led by hall chairman, Howard West, who announced he would be standing down as chairman in two weeks, as he had been elected Mayor of Colyford the previous evening and needed to concentrate on this.

Mr West welcomed a packed hall of guests, including Devon county councillor, Sara Randall-Johnson, and representatives of the Community Council for Devon.

He then introduced Philip Richards, chairman of the Colyton Chamber of Feoffees, which loaned £20,000 to the hall to complete its new roof and solar panelling - the opened.

Mr West thanked Mr Richards and the Feoffees for their recent loan, and a donation that went towards the hall's kitchen refurbishment several years ago.

He told guests that during the roof replacement in August the asbestos was found to be cracked and, had it not been replaced and Colyford had heavy snow this winter, the roof would have likely collapsed.

Mr West also thanked Colyton Parish Council which has donated £9,000 to the hall over the past three years and to the Community Council for Devon which had given a grant of £5,000, matched with £1,000 from East Devon District Council.

He added: "A very special, exceptional thanks goes to the Goose Fayre organisers and all their helpers. Every year, at least since I have been chairman of the hall, we have always had a very generous donation each year.

He also thanked Mr and Mrs Poutney, who host the Goose Fayre each year on their land.

"The Goose Fayre always offers to pay for use of the land and they always say no, give it to the hall as a donation instead. We have just recieved £100 for that."

Mr West said the committee had originally hoped local celebrity chef, Hugh Fearnleylage hall and thought 'what a village!', and there was a house for sale

"That was 32 years ago and I have enjoyed those years here more than anywhere else."

Mr West then called John Bennett, Paula Collingwood, Clive Stone and Charles Harris, representing his late wife, Janet Harris, onto the stage to give his particular thanks to. He said they were "very important people who have made this possible".

Mr Stone said the success of the hall was down to 'teamwork of the whole community'

Guests were then served cream teas. They returned in the evening for a show by Colyton Theatre Group, a quiz and line-dancing.

As well as the £50,000 roof project, the halls refurbishment programme has included a new kitchen, tea servery, bar and new toilets, totalling about £120,000.

Following the closure of Colyton convenience store Wilkies last month, deliveries of bread and newspapers were left outside the shop.

What the poppy means:

THE poppy is an instantly recognisable symbol of respect for those who've made the ultimate sacrifice in conflicts past and present.

As the nation's custodian of Remembrance, the Legion is committed to helping everyone understand the importance of Remembrance, so those sacrifices are never forgotten.

Field of Rememberance:

THE first Field of Remembrance was held in the grounds of Westminster Abbey in November 1928. That year only two Remembrance Crosses were planted. But it began a tradition that took root and has grown and grown over the decades. Each Cross carries a personal message to someone who lost his or her life in the Service of our country Amanda Binnie plants a Cross in memory of her husband Sean who died while serving in Afghanistan.

She finds the rituals of Remembrance are part of the healing process.

"They bring home how many people have lost their lives and how important it is that we never forget what they have done for this country."

Flanders field of poppies:

IN 1918, 11 November signalled the end of The Great War; the Armistice was signed. Since 1921, the nation has come together to remember the sacrifices that hundreds of thousands of British and Commonwealth Service men and women made not just during the Great War, but World War 2 and all subsequent wars and conflicts including Iraq and Afghanistan.

To salute all these heroes and express the gratitude they deserve this Remembrance Day, the Legion is planting a "Flanders Field" of Poppies beside the ramparts of the Menin Gate Memorial in Ypres.

Please be part of this heartfelt act of commemoration by dedicating a poppy with your personal message. Every poppy planted is one more deed of courage remembered. The Menin Gate is unique because it is the only place in the world where the fallen of the Great War are remembered each day.

The Appeal is the Legion's biggest fundraising campaign and runs year-round. Lapel poppies are available to buy in shops, supermarkets, pubs and clubs from the last week of October until Remembrance Sunday, or 11th November, whichever is later in the calendar.

It takes 350,000 volunteers and staff to organise the Poppy Appeal each year. Money raised goes to support our welfare work for the Armed Forces community.

More than 40 million Remembrance poppies, 500,000 poppies of other types, 5 million Remembrance petals, 100,000 wreaths and sprays, 750,000 Remembrance Crosses and other Remembrance items are made at the Poppy Factory

The 2010 Poppy Appeal raised a staggering £36 million, smashing all previous records. This target for the 2011 Appeal (October 2011 to September 2012) is £40 million.

POPPY APPEAL LEGION Lest we forget them... November 2011 Wear your poppy with price

ON the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month in 1918, the First World War

Civilians wanted to remember the people who had given their lives for peace and freedom.

An American War Secretary, Moina Michael, inspired by John McCrae's poem,"In Flanders' Fields", began selling poppies to friends to raise money for the ex-Service community.

And so the tradition began.

IN 1922 Major George Howson, a young infantry officer, formed the Disabled Society to help disabled ex-Service men and women from the First World

Howson suggested to the Legion that members of the Disabled Society could make poppies, and the Poppy Factory was subsequently founded in Richmond in 1922

The original poppy was designed so that workers with a disability could easily assemble it and this principle remains today.

John McCrae May 1915

In Flanders fields the poppies blow Between the crosses, row on row, That mark our place; and in the sky The larks, still bravely singing, fly Scarce heard amid the guns below. We are the Dead. Short days ago We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved, and now we lie In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe: To you from failing hands we throw The torch; be yours to hold it high. If ye break faith with us who die We shall not sleep, though poppies grow

In Flanders fields.

Pulman's View

With NIGEL SPELLER

FATHER Michael Koppell opens this week: If one were asked to state, in a single sentence, just what it is which makes us Christians different, one might well be tempted to reply that we're a people of hope.

And our Christian hope is special because it's not only for a time but also for eternity. It's good to keep that in mind as we approach Remembrance Sunday and think of the brave people who gave their lives in world wars and in many other conflicts of our troubled time. We remember all those men and women with admiration and with gratitude, but, above all, with hope: the sure and certain hope of the resurrection to eternal life in our Lord Jesus Christ. Remembrance Sunday Services, often including the planting of poppies and laying of wreaths will be taking place in the majority of local churches and chapels, and some in the open air on November 11th. Many will start just before 11am, to recall the fallen in two Great Wars and the smaller operations since.

In the preceding week many churches keep All Saints' Day on November 1st and All Souls' Day on the day following, remembering other faithful departed.

membering other faithful departed.

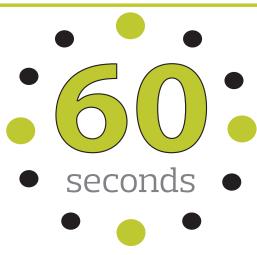

At the beginning of the month members of the former Allhalows School unveiled a memorial plaque to those who gave their lives in the Second World War. This was followed by an annual Memorial service in St Paul's Church in Honiton, close to where the school was founded in the 16th century.

On November 15th Honiton Deanery Synod meets in Axminster Church at 7:30am –non-members welcome.

Jam jars and church events – Readers will be aware that there has been some controversy and press comment on the re-use of jam jars for church events, suggesting that this was against the law. The Churches Legislation Advisory Service notes that the issue has generated much discussion - not to say derision - that risk of prosecution is now minimal. For advice from CLAS, telephone 020 7222 1265.

Church of England parishes are conscious that November is a critical month for their affairs, with their General Synod meeting in London from November 19th-21st. They are expected to come to a decision on the matter of Women Bishops and, in the same month, the Anglican Church at home and overseas will be awaiting the name of the next Archbishop of Canterbury.

Anglican Parishes should register with the Land Registry be fore October 2013 all local ancient responsibilities (non-church) for chancel repairs, failing which, future costs of work will fall upon the local churches. These responsibilities date from the Dissolution of the Monastries and must be recorded to obtain BALLROOM dancer Mike Hatch is originally from Enfield, Middlesex, and has lived all over the UK as well as Geneva in Switzerland and the Loire Valley in France. He settled in Colyford after his wife passed away. Before retiring, Mike worked as a university lecturer specialising in information technology, accountancy and finance. He now focuses full-time on dancing and is starting classes at Colyford Memorial Hall tomorrow (Wednesday).

WHY did you take up ballroom dancing?

It is such a long time ago now that I really can't remember the exact reason why. When I was a teenager I was mad on cricket and it would appear that cricketers make good dancers. Mark Ramprakash and Darren Gough have both won Strictly and last year's winner, Harry Judd, was the star of the Sport Relief celebrity cricket team that recently toured India. My parents were both very good ballroom dancers and used to enter competitions and so perhaps it is just in my blood.

WHEN did you learn?

I first took up ballroom dancing back in 1972 at a very young age. I went to the Vernon Johnson School of Dance in Liverpool. I remember walking down Penny Lane to go to my les-

WHAT'S your favourite dance and why?

If you had asked me this question three months ago, I would have said the jive, provided it is fast and furious. However, my dancing partner, Denise, and I have since taken up the Argentine tango and I have fallen in love with it. The figures are so intricate and varied. Moreover, within a piece of music the rhythm keeps changing and so it gives the performer a real opportunity to express him or herself on the dance floor.

HAS their been an upsurge in interest in dancing since Strictly Come Dancing?

I think when the series first hit the airwaves, there was a massive upsurge in the number of people who wanted to learn to dance. Interest has now died down a bit, but it is still there Perhaps though the return of tough economic times will lead more people to search for something different in their lives, as did those who danced away the Great Depression of the 1930s.

TELL us about the classes in Colyford...

These will be designed for the absolute beginner - those who have never danced before or who claim they have two left feet. My dancing partner, Denise, and I will be aiming for a fun, friendly and relaxed class, because we believe that if you can create the right learning environment then people will make progress that much quicker. We will be starting with the basics; however, we hope to get couples up and onto the dance floor as soon as possible, without neglecting good technique. We will be teaching two ballroom dances, the waltz and the quickstep, and two Latin American dances - the rumba and cha cha cha. They are fairly easy to learn and seem to be the most popular ones, which are always played when people go out to a dance.

WHAT are the benefits of taking up ballroom dancing?There is no better way of meeting new friends and socialising. It is excellent for relaxing after a hard day's work, is good for lifting your moral and allows you to forget your problems. Learning to dance keeps the mind alert and the body active - it can reduce levels of stress, strengthen bones and muscles and help to control body weight. Dance also offers an activity for people who may not consider themselves as "sporty". The benefit of dance is not only that of increased exercise, but the participation in an art form, which is routed in technique, and which gives the opportunity for a creative

WHAT are your other personal interests?

Learning foreign languages, especially French, German and Spanish. Yoga and swimming, watching cricket and rugby.

WHAT do you like about living in Colyford?

The people, who are very friendly and always seem to have time for you. In addition, the peace and guiet and the lack of traffic. I used to live in rural France and the thought of going back to a large English town or city with its hurly-burly really fills me with horror.

WHAT would you change about or add to the area if you could? I would like to see a small French supermarket move into the area, because I do miss certain French produce, especially their wine and cheeses.

WHICH three well-known dancers

would you invite to a dinner party?
Ginger Rogers – one of the all time great female dancers. She would be able to give me the lowdown on what it was really like to dance with Fred Astaire. Gene Kelly – another dancing great, who would not only be able to tell me what it is like to dance and sing in the rain, but also how on earth it is possible to dance on roller skates – he performed this feat in the romantic musical fantasy film Xanadu. Anton Du Beke, the Strictly professional. As well as being a superb ballroom dancer, he is also a keen golfer, who plays off six and was a junior boxer and county footballer. At the same time, he is one of the funniest men on the planet.

Badger population should be reduced

THE recent sight of three road accident badgers within several hundred yards of each other is a reminder that the population of these animals is far too large for its own

As we know, the pilot culling schemes which were scheduled for parts of Gloucestershire and West Somerset have been postponed until some time next year, presumably the late summer when sows have had their cubs.

MPs voted by 147 to 28 in favour of a motion for the cull to be stopped and a vaccination programme for badgers to be pursued. This followed a five and a half hour debate as a result of a petition signed by 163,000 people opposing the ban.

Paul Wilkinson, who is Head of Living Landscapes for the Wildlife Trusts, said that it is time for the Government to listen to the views of scientists, the public and now

He went on "a badger vaccine is available now and improved biosecurity measures can help to reduce the spread of the disease (bovine TB) and in the longer term a cattle vaccine can play a very real part in helping deal with the problem ... '

I have long maintained that the badger cull would be a trigger for rural chaos. Without question a small but vociferous group opposed to the cull were intent on causing havoc to the farming community and now that the cull has been delayed until next year, the more violent elements of opposition, some recruited from the discredited hunt saboteurs and similar movements, will have ample time in which to plan their opposition.

None are remotely interested in the welfare of cattle or the livelihoods of farmers, nor do they have any real un-derstanding of the countryside and its management.

If people like the guitar player, Brian May, had any real grasp of the issues involved he could have an important role to play in making the wider public understand that badgers and foxes are not furry little people to be treated as lovable pets but living wild animals which kill a wide range of other creatures in order to exist.

My own view is that the cull is indeed a waste of time as far as any effect it might have on the significant reduction of bovine TB, but the badger population is now out of hand, and has been for some years.

Treated as some sort of rare and iconic animal, claimed to be an endangered species and so protected that one hardly dares so much as look at a badger sett, the expanding population is having a significant effect on other wildlife, notably hedgehogs, whilst there is little doubt that the animals themselves will become increasingly subject to disease. The badger population across the country should be reduced for its own sake and the sake of other wildlife.

A unique auction is under way as a means of raising money to assist Dorset's wildlife. Politicians, including David Cameron, musicians, actors and comedians have all donated original drawings for which one can bid on

The celebrities were asked to make a sketch of a British animal or plant. Many of the sketches from celebrities include fingerprint drawings, some are simple sketches, while singer Marty Wilde has painted a complete picture with a finger dipped in paint.

The first drawings, including those by Susan Hampshire and Fearne Cotton went online on November 4th and the event will continue over the winter with all proceeds going to the protection of Dorset's wildlife.

Amongst the celebrities are Glenda Jackson, Robin Cousins, Prunella Scales and Daniel O'Donnell and to see their work among the 50 sketches submitted go to www.dorsetwildlifetrust.org.uk/celebrityart

History of Osborne's Menswear shop

Tony and Alma in 1968 after looking at many parts of Cornwall for a suitable gents and ladies outfitter, settled for the gent's outfitters belonging to Mr Woodgate of Fore Street, Beer.

Tony and Alma up to this point, had worked in St Austell at the same branch of firm called Hugh Wyllies. Tony was a salesman and Alma was a cashier. After winning continuous awards for his top sales, Tony decided that his skills would be better invested in his own business instead of for 'Great Universal Stores' and decided Tony and Alma took over the business from Mr Woodgate in January 1969. Throughout the winter months, takings were low, but progressed as the summer months came and with that came the sale of swimwear and beach shoes etc.

A large show window was installed as a main feature to the shop, enabling the shop to show off its large sales area, with a growing need for more merchandise. Sales began to improve substantially and with this came the came the need to employ a couple of sales assistants.

As winter arrived again, Beer turned into a ghost town, with many shops closed for the winter, so Tony had an idea of specialising in bigger sizes for men. This came about after trying to buy a blazer for himself in C & A'S in Exeter and finding that the sleeves came half way up his arms – which the assistant found very amusing. Tony being a big man himself thought that others must have a similar problem.

In 1981, to size up the market, Tony put an advert in the Exchange and Mart and was astonished by the result. One Tuesday he received £241 in the post, which in those days was equivalent to a week's taking in the winter

Realising the route to success was through advertising; Tony started to put single columns in the national papers, such as the Dailey Express and Dailey Mirror. These adverts cost £350 to £450 for each advert, but generated hundreds of replies

Catalogues were then posted to customers, firstly in black and white, but quickly progressed to a 40 page coloured catalogue. Unfortunately with the success in this area of the market and the need for more space, it was decided to close the ladies department. Tony found it problematic being able to find manufacture that would make the goods in the sizes that his customers required which included suits up to 70 inch chest, trousers up to a 66 inch waist and shoes to a size 15.

Customers from far and wide stated it was cheaper to travel to Beer, stay the night in a hotel and stock up their clothes at Osborne's, rather than pay the prices in major cities like London. Amongst the celebrities that shopped at Osborne's was Bob Willis who was photographed with Tony outside the shop, Patrick Moore the astronomer and M.P.'s from the House of Commons.

In 1983, mail order becoming increasingly demanding. The business would not have been such a success without the hard work and dedication of the staff who worked for Tony and Alma and for that they have always extended their gratitude.

In 1989 Tony had to retire on advice from medical profession in order to have a multiple heart bypass operation, but continued to model with his friends; Andy Sydenham and Les Andrews for the current proprietors in the Osborne's catalogue.

Tony and Alma enjoyed 22 years of retirement before unfortunately losing Alma to cancer last year. He says that none of this would have been possible without her constant support and dedication to him and the business. Whilst Tony was at the fore front of the business it was only family and close friends that knew that Alma was an equal partner behind the scenes.

Ofsted success at Broadhembury

Primary School has been judged "good" by Ofsted inspectors.

'Good" is the second highest mark available in the four-level grading system.

A report issued by inspectors said that pupils "are increasingly attaining above average results by the time they leave school". Inspectors also felt that the federation with Branscombe C of E Primary School, under the leadership of executive headteacher Katie Gray, has allowed the school to make substantial improvements since the last inspection in 2010.

To continue its good improvement, lead inspector Paul Garvey concluded that the school should increase pupils to tackle tasks independently, expand the range of extra-curricular activities and make more use of opportunities in the local community to boost pupils' learning.

Ms Gray said: "The whole school community is thrilled with the Ofsted report.

"I would like to thank the staff team who have worked really hard to develop the school and who have made the most of sharing expertise across our newly formed federation. I would also like to thank the children for the enthusiasm they showed during the inspection. They make this school such a rewarding and special place."

Success for Musbury students

■ WORTWHILE: Some of the pupils with their entries and certificates

A NUMBER of entries from Musbury Primary School were highly commended in the handwriting and painting categories at Colaton Raleigh Ploughing Association Teacher Steph Fiveash said: "The children painted various animals using a range of mixed media, including oil pastels, watercolour paints and coloured chalks.

"The younger children chose poems about different animals and then illustrated their poems using watercolour paints and pastels.

The children thoroughly enjoyed the experience of creating their entries for the show and were delighted with their achievements."

Have your say on future of Hawkchurch

A PUBLIC consultation event has been called to discuss future development of Hawkchurch.

The village hall will be open from 10am to 1pm on Saturday, November 10th and parish council clerk John Vanderwolfe explained that the parish council, in association with East Devon District Council, has earmarked an expansion of 15 new homes over the next

He added: "A number of possible sites have been suggested, and this public consultation will give people the opportunity to see the various possible sites, and to make their comments.

"I hope that as many people as possible will take the opportunity to drop in and have their say."

Celebrant speaks at East Devon Humanist Group

THE speaker at the October meeting of the East Devon Humanist Group was Jenny Lloyd, a celebrant with the British Humanist Association (BHA).

For some years now, more and more people are planning a non-religious funeral and an increasing number of couples want a non-religious wedding ceremony or a naming ceremony instead of a christening.

To meet these wishes, a network of been set up throughout the whole of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland that have their own arrangements. Jenny explained the training process and gave examples of how, in particular, she conducted funerals.

She read out poems and passages from literature that are suitable for such occasions. Her talk gave rise to a lively discussion.

Undemocratic vote? Senior Voice offers public

(DSV), the voluntary forum for the over 50s, has serious concerns about the election on November 15th of a Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC), who will take over from the Police Authority as the overseer of the Devon and Cornwall police force.

The Commissioner will have the power to hire and fire the Chief Constable, and set the force's budget and strategic direction, but will not make operational

We believe the new system is flawed, for a number of reasons. We question the wisdom of introducing expensive changes at a time when the number of police officers in England and Wales is being reduced by budget cuts. You just have to open your local newspaper in Devon to read that farm robberies recently risen, have including rustling of animals and theft of farm equipment and chemicals.

Devon is a large county, and many of our 2000-plus members live in rural and more vulnerable to crime and resulting in fear and increasing social isolation.

Furthermore, why is just one person replacing the members of the authority? Four out of the 10 candidates appear to be backed by political parties, which would, if that is the case, give the four more money and resources to contest this election.

This would mean that political candidates will be at an advantage over independents.

Should

by political parties? The Electoral Commission has circulated all households with brief details about the purpose and role of a PCC.

But the leaflet gives no information about who is standing for election - if you want to know more, you are advised to visit a website or call a Freephone number to order printed information.

The government decided on cost grounds against the obvious policy of allowing candidates to post campaign literature about homes by Freepost, thus denying many the ability to democratic choice.

Finally, as the largest group of people who turn out to vote, we in DSV are seriously concerned at how democratic this election will be. Voting figures in elections generally low, and if that is the case the appointment will lack even the veneer of being democratic.

Lack of information will make commissioner vote difficult your correspondents Bill Coltham and Mary Lewis with regard to the coming elections for the new post of Police and Crime Commissioner

Bill Coltham makes the point that some of the candidates may have limited experience in the running of large organisations.

This may well be the case but I cannot see how we will be able to judge wether this is so considering the lack of information we have access too conerning the candidates and their backgrounds. I very much agree with Mary Lewis that making an informed choice at these elections is going to be very difficult and that the public need much more information about the candidates if these elections are to have any valid result.

■ WITH only a week to go before the elections for Police and Crime Commissioner, many people lack information on the candidates and

We are pleased to invite members of the public to our Senior Voice hustings at 2pm on Wednesday, November 14th at Honiton Methodist Church (doors open for refreshments at 1.30pm).

This will be the only opportunity voters in Honiton area will have to meet candidates face to face and put questions on policing and crime

Electoral Commission: "Run away from responsibilities"

Electoral Commission responsible for "setting standards for well-run elections"

Does that not imply that they inform us of the intended policies of the and Crime Commissioner candidates, thus allowing us voters to make an informed decision?

How long does it take to implement this process?

I phoned the number given, only to be informed by an answer phone message that if the information booklet had not arrived by November 2nd I need to contact them

What a way to run away from their responsibilities.

WISE INTENTIONS 'REMEMBERING THEM' ON BBC RADIO

YOUNG band of brothers 'Wise Intentions' (Scott 17, Grant, 20 and Blake, 19) have surprised locals by paying a personal tribute to all of those who have lost their lives serving their country by writing a special Remembrance Day song called 'Remember Them'.

'Wise Intentions' were inspired to write this song on Remembrance Day last year, with powerful lyrics that encompass the heartfelt compassion which is felt when lives are lost.

You will get the chance of hearing 'Remember Them' as Wise Intentions will be performing this song as part of their live performance (and interview) as three of the guests on John Govier's Saturday Show being aired this Saturday morning, November 10th on BBC Radio Devon (show starts 9am, guests on from 10am - 1pm).

The brothers, have also shot a video for 'Remember Them'. This was filmed in Lyme Regis, and will soon be able to download on YouTube in time for the show, and subsequently be available to view afterwards.

VAUXHALL has enhanced its finance deals across its multi-award winning commercial vehicle range.

Supported by the manufacturer's extensive dealer network and available on the Corsavan, Astravan, New Combo, Vivaro and Movano, the new contract hire rates mean that the entire Vauxhall CV model range is even more affordable.

For just £199.99 per month excluding VAT for business customers, the British-built Vivaro comes with the Extra Value Plus Pack, including: air conditioning, remote alarm and Electric Pack. Also UKproduced is the Astravan Sportive, available from £161.99 per month excluding VAT. The new-to-therange Combo Van is available from £166.99 per month excluding VAT.

"Our new Vauxhall Leasing offering has been developed to meet the many challenges of running a modern van fleet," said Richard Collier, Vauxhall's National Commercial Vehicle and B2B Sales Man-

"Our contract hire solu-tion is both flexible and highly competitive in the marketplace, while our excellent regional coverage means customers can take advantage of the fully maintained packages which cover services and brakes and tyres, providing hasslefree motoring."

Free winter check from Volkswagen commercial vehicles

OVER the past two winters, Volkswagen Roadside Assistance has attended 2,500 battery related call-outs and 700 wiper and washer related call-outs, so to make sure your van isn't a victim of the cold this year, take advantage of the free Winter Check now available from Volkswagen Van Centres and authorised repairers

The free, 30-point Winter Check includes essentials such as battery, lights, tyres, wipers and washers, plus screenwash and antifreeze levels. If the screenwash is low, it will be topped up for free with Volkswagen genuine screenwash, which can cope with temperatures of minus 70°C. If any items need replacing, a range of Volkswagen approved replacements are available at competitive prices, including winter tyres, which provide extra grip and traction when temperatures fall below seven degrees.

In addition, Volkswagen

Commercial Vehicles has produced a video of top winter driving tips, with help from the Volkswagen Roadside Assistance partner, the RAC. This can be seen at www.volkswagenvans.co.uk, or on YouTube at: www.youtube.com/vwcommercial vehicles.

'People don't realise the importance of basics like good quality screenwash which works at much lower temperatures than cheaper alternatives, or that the correct antifreeze level is essential to reduce the risk and cost of burst pipes or frozen water pumps,' said Stephen Bateson, Head of Aftersales and Customer Service

This free Winter Check will help van drivers keep their vehicles on the road this winter, and save the cost of unnecessary repairs and lost business if they breakdown,' he continued.

To find your nearest participating Volkswagen Van Centre, call 0800 717131 or visit www.volkswagenvans.co.uk. For the latest updates follow Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles on Facebook: facebook.com/VolkswagenCommercialVehicle-

Brake reaction: thousands of casualties caused by poor driver vision

A REPORT out today commissioned by insurer RSA, has found that road crashes caused by poor driver vision result in an estimated 2,900 casualties and cost £33 million per year.

Brake and RSA are calling for the numberplate test to be replaced with a requirement for drivers to have a proper vision test with a qualified professional at the start of their driving career, and mandatory re-testing every 10 years thereafter linked to driving licence photocard renewal. Drivers should also be encouraged to voluntarily have their eyes tested every two years in line with NHS recommendations.

Julie Townsend, deputy chief executive. Brake, the road safety charity, said: "This report gives an indication of how many violent and devastating casualties on our roads could be prevented through a simple eye examination. Being able to see clearly what's in front and around you is fundamental to safe, responsible driving. That's why we urge drivers to have an eye test at least every two years, even if you think your sight is fine. We also hope to see common sense winning through and the government tightening up the rules on driver eyesight. To make our roads safer and ensure everyone is fit to drive we need a scientific eyesight test at the start of your driving career and compulsory re-tests at least every 10 years thereafter."

Vikings sunk by late cup goal

Sidmouth Res 1 Exeter CS 2

Devon & Exeter division two SIDMOUTH will look back on Saturday's 1-2 defeat by visiting Exeter Civil Service and feel like they have been 'mugged' after dominating possession for much of the match.

They started brightly and were passing the ball around well, creating several close misses. At the other end the defence were battling with the visitors centre forward who was proving to be a thorn in their side, and would be all game.

Midway through the first-half the hosts missed a penalty and went on to miss more chances so at half time it stayed 0-0.

The Vikings flew out of the blocks in the second-half and after hitting the woodwork they went ahead when another penalty was put away confidently from JP Staniforth, that should have been the spark for them to comfortably see the game out.

But they let Civil back and a low shot through a crowd of players gave the Vikings' keeper had no chance

The visitors then scored what proved to be the winner. The Vikings threw three men forward and put the visitors under intense pressure but couldn't get the ball in the net and the game finished in a disappointing de

Manager Nick Ogden was perplexed he said: "We played some good football but at any level you have to take your chances and that's what ultimately cost I'm disappointed because this was a chance that's gone begging". Matt Colson got the manager's Man-of-the-Match vote.

Ogden may ring the changes for Saturday's game at Topsham and bring in players who missed out last Saturday.

He said: "It's a squad thing and because we have the players available I will change things".

Axminster Res 4 Bampton 1 Devon & Exeter division four

AXMINSTER Reserves, playing back at their beloved Sector Lane, flew out of the blocks and took the lead after only three minutes through Adam White house from an acute angle following good work from Matt

Two minutes later it was 2-0 when Joel Seward knocked in a cross from Whitehouse, the Tigers were playing some scintillating football and it was surpris-ing that the score stayed like that until half-time.

After the break Axminster continued to put pressure on the Exmouth goal, but could not get that elusive third goal and in the 70th minute Exmouth got a goal

Instead of panicking the Tigers went down the other end and scored their third through Paul Dudley after a superb crossfield pass from Hewer and 2 minutes later Ollie Highet ran through the Exmouth defence toextend the lead to 4-1

Late body blow

Alphington 1 Sidmouth Town 0 AET DEVON PREMIER CUP

THE Vikings went out of the Graddons Devon Premier Cup after a goal deep into the second-half of extra-time.

On a sticky pitch, it was the home side who got on top and Town, looking a little leggy, had to withstand a fair amount of pressure.

But the defence stood firm and for all their early possession the Alphas never really threatened the visitors goal.

Town started playing a lot better although neither 'keeper was tested

The second-half was much the same with the home side creating more chances but again the Vikings worked hard to protect their clean sheet.

At the other end Matt Rasmussen was working tirelessly to try and find an opening as Town forced a number of corners but again couldn't really test the home goalkeeper.

Sidmouth kicked off the extra-time and went straight for the kill with Stamp, Hudson and Rasmussen fashioning a chance that went narrowly wide as they enjoyed their best period of the match.

More pressure saw first Raistrick head over then Stamp head wide. Alphington were now playing on the counter attack but they came close to breaking the deadlock with the bar being struck with Burgess well beaten.

Back came Town with Lord forcing a fine save from his headed effort.

With penalties looming and the tie equally poised Alphington scored the winner when a free-kick was headed in at the far post to leave the Vikings deflated after a superb workmanlike effort. Manager Thomas said: "Each player in the squad gave their maximum in terms of effort, determination and attitude.

"We have played better this season against superior sides, but scoring is our major prob-

"Our fitness was excellent and I think we deserved to get down to penalties given the fact that we held them for so long.

It seemed clear that it was going to be physical encounter with the home side taking advantage of some lenient.

"Alex Raistrick and Sam Baker were both knocked to the ground in separate off-the-ball incidents with the official taking no action. Soon after a late, high tackle forced Darren Thomas off injured minutes - Needless to say no action was taken against the perpetrator.

"That's twice now we have had this official and twice we have had a player carried off with no appropriate action taken! Sidmouth have Uplowman held on to the top spot thanks to a big win over Tip Top Trees.

With Mandy Norman in great form, Uplowman led from the start and recorded a 64-13 win despite the best efforts of Molly Simpson who played very well.

OPG maintained their second place in the division with a 33-12 win over Signs South West. Helen Wright was the star for OPG whilst Debbie Wheeler caught the eye for SSW.

THE club have enjoyed some very close matches during the past fortnight.

The Ladies lost 53-57 in a very tight triples friendly game at Madeira with an excellent 24-18 win for Daphne Ryan, Marion Harris, & Sheila Martin.

Meanwhile, the men lost 53-57 home to Westlands in another friendly triples game with a good 20-17 win for Brian Downton, John Hill & George Mabon.

In the mixed friendlies we had a good 77-39 win at home to Feniton with wins for Margaret Brown, Daphne Ryan, David Harris & Howard Keep (27-10), Lilian Lovatt, Mike Preston, Ann Clayton & Marion Harris (26-14), and Morrison Brown, Mary Preston, Chris Todd & Margaret Crompton (24-

AXE CLIFF with Janet Dack SENIOR CLUB

LAST Friday the Seniors took part in a three-man Bowmaker Stableford for the Silver Salver.

Intermittent showers had an influence on the play with the final scores slightly down on 2011.

The winners, with 68 points, were Gilbert Cox. Chris Jowett & Tony Horton. Two teams recorded scores of 66 with second place on countback going to Malcolm Glass, Charles Whitbourn & lain Bain, and third to Gerry Turner, Geoff Hubbard & Peter Knighting.

The highlight of the morning came in the final group - an ace (1) at the 11th by Peter Rollason. There were also two 2s from Nick Stanton and Chris Jowett.

HONITON with Andy Wagner

Dave Morgan's week became one to forget last week - although he started brightly enough in the Captain v Vice Captain Challenge.

Morgan won the battle but lost the war by recording a victory over Captain Paul Dimond in their head-to-head match but conceded the subsequent team game 5 to 4.

After that it was round 1 of the Sun Am Winter league where, with partner Ron Graham, they faced an easier challenge against Andy Wagner who was playing on his own.

There was little sign of the eventual outcome as they took the first two holes with ease. But as was symptomatic of Dave's week they lost the match 2 and 1.

This opening day saw another singleton victory when Andy Sharland returned to the clubhouse with an equally broad smile.

Tuesday's Chivers Goblets match was a Greensome Stableford drawn for playing partners.

The winning couple who were presented with the Chivers Goblets from Lady Captain Jackie Seager were Cherry Liell & Andy Sharland with Yet again we had tough conditions, with umbrellas definitely in need, the winners were Henrietta Bradshaw, Lesley Oxenham and Liz Rogers with 53pts.

SIDMOUTH 19 OLD REDCLIFFIANS 24

INJURIES are forcing the Blackmoor club to select from a larger squad than they would wish at the present time and it was a much changed side that took the field against the thriving visitors

Undoubtedly it was Old Reds who started the stronger. They took up residence in the home twenty two and turned pressure into points immediately, through their out half.

He dummied his way over close to the posts, converted his own try, and then kicked two penalties before the game was fifteen minutes old.

Eventually Sidmouth got hold of the ball and set up an attack that, although it came to nought, enabled them to gain some field position from which Tom Whelan got his side on to the scoreboard by kicking a penalty goal.

The visitors came straight however and increased their lead by scoring a try after a successful catch and drive by their pack.

This gave them a 18-3 lead and it was essential that the next score came from Sidmouth. It duly did when, after a 50yard move had set up the position, Whelan dummied and got over.

He converted his own try and, although the Old Reds fly half kicked his third penalty late in the half to take the scoreline to 10-21, nothing was yet resolved.

It was Sidmouth who settled first in the second period, and some astute tactical kicking by Whelan and Retter kept them on the front foot.

They began to edge their way back, first through a Retter drop goal, and subsequently via a Whelan penalty. Redcliffians responded however, and their replacement out half gathered three points for his side with a successful place kick on the

This was Sidmouth's best period and they were denied from taking the lead by a post that caused the ball to bounce unkindly and foxed the following Chris Higgs.

The visitors' pack were gaining an edge however and they pinned Sidmouth back in defence for long periods.

They broke out eventually and Retter kicked a penalty to bring his side into contention at 19-24 with just a few minutes remaining. Sidmouth's rally continued and they pounded the visitors line throughout time added on for injury.

They could not score however and had to be content with a losing bonus point to show for their afternoon's work.

IVYBRIDGE 54 HONITON 18

IT is beyond doubt that Honiton are in the toils at the present time.

They are finding Western Counties rugby a little rich for their blood: something that is hardly surprising for it represents the highest level at which the club has ever competed.

This is allied to the fact that they have lost several pivotal players to long-term injury. Jason Hannay (neck), Coutts-Tucker (collar bone), and Barrett (hand) being the latest additions to a pretty long

They travelled to Ivybridge on Saturday last, a side whom they might have stood a chance of beating, had they been able to pick from a full squad.

As it was they were outgunned, especially in the first-half. In fact they did not help themselves, conceding half-a-dozen penalties in as many minutes and finding hemselves 14 points in arrears well before the 20 minute mark.

Their problems continued throughout the half and, although out half Meadows was successful with a couple of penalty kicks, they still trailed 32-6 at the halfway stage.

The second period was marginally better for them. Isaac Dalton got over for a try that was goaled by Meadows, who also scored an unconverted try of his

The home side went on its merry way however and were certainly in command throughout.

HONITON 2nd 25 TOPSHAM 2nd 15

ALTHOUGH Honiton faced the slope initially at Allhallows, they certainly started the brighter, taking the lead with an unconverted try by prop Matt Olive who took a crash ball at pace and barged over from close range.

Ian Floyd scored the next, again using his weight to very good advantage and, when out half Chris Sampson ran in from the ten-yard line, the home side were in control.

Old lag Richard Woolacott then put his hand up for his side by scoring try number four and, although the visitors retaliated by kicking a penalty goal, skipper Tom Churchward's bonus point try just before the break kept his side in control at the halfway stage. Good manners prevent me from mentioning the name or names of the Honiton place kickers. They had kicked no conversions thus far and could not amend that record when Dave Wellington scuttled over in the second period to complete his side's scoring.

With the game now won, Honiton did relax just a little and Totnes came back with tries, one of which they converted to give the score line respectability by the

THE leagues take a rest on Saturday next, when local cup competitions hold centre stage

SIDMOUTH have a home game against PAIGNTON and, although historically speaking the Blackmoor side have had little joy against these opponents, this season they bested them comfortably, and on their own patch at that.

Cup games often throw up unexpected results, but I do think that Sidmouth will make home advantage count in this one.

HONITON could certainly do with a week off to regroup and lick their wounds. No such luck, for they entertain PLYMOUTH BARBARIANS who, although they are from a lower division, are nobody's muas.

This presents something of a quandary for the Allhallows side. Should they pick the best side available and go all out for a morale-boosting win, or should they give many a much needed rest and let the result go?

It will, in all probability be a "damned if you do, damned if you don't" decision. I wish them luck with it.

As to the second sides, Sidmouth seconds will certainly have their hands full when they visit their Crediton counterparts, while who knows just what Honiton seconds will face when they entertain Exeter University.

Shoe problems can't halt Alex!

NINE Honiton Running Club members took part in Axe Valley Runner's Yarcombe Yomp last weekend.

The route is made up of a five mile loop of mud, hills, water and fields and runners can choose to run it twice completing 10 miles or finish having completed one loop.

Alex Todd of AVR won the race convincingly with a time of 1 hour 12 minutes.

Steve Davey was first back for Honiton fin-ishing in 7th place in 1:24 winning a prize for first male over 50

Howard Bidmead had a great run finishing 19th in 1:31 and Graham Rooms managed to knock about five minutes off last year's time to finish 25th in 1:34. John Burgess managed to stay on his feet for the second year running finishing 33rd in 1:43.

Gerry finished in 40th place in 1:54. It was Kathy Ĺayzell's completed Honiton's line up in 48th place in 2:16.

Honiton junior member, Henry Riddle, won the five mile race in 42:26 and Val Hales finished 13th in 1:10 winning the first local resident's prize.

Many thanks to Robin Carter, AVR and all involved in organisation as well as the friendly marshals and landowners but special thanks to the ladies responsible for the delicious soup and cakes awaiting runners upon their return.

A small band of runners from Honiton RC crossed the border into Somerset on Sunday

The race is all on road, but heavy overnight rain interspersed with a little snow meant that part of the course resembled a river.

The route can best be described as undulat ing with a mile long hill just before the half-

The nature of the course doesn't normally give many personal best times, however nobody told Graham Reeves who recorded his best ever 10k time of 40.25. It can't be long before Graham gets under the magic $4\bar{0}$ minute mark.

Next home was Nick Thorpe, a very unusual placing for him, in 49.10, his best 10k for some time. Sarah Warren was close behind in 51:00, after leading Nick at the half-way point. Claire Melbourne and Sandra Thorpe came next and were separated by just two seconds in 56.09 and 56.11 respectively.

Claire is regaining her pre Edinburgh Marathon pace and Sandra was delighted after recently returning to running after a year's absence due to injury.

Special mention must go to Val Hales who not content with running the Yarcombe Yomp on Saturday, turned up and raced again. She AXE VALLEY RUNNERS with Dave Mutter THE Yarcombe Yomp was the muddiest. wettest and one of the toughest multi-terrain runs so far this year and AVR turned out a large contingency as usual.

The first two places in both male and female runners in the 10 mile run were taken by AVR

First home in 1.12.36 was Alex Todd who made this achievement even more unbelievable by running the first lap of the two lap

In second place was Patrick Devine-Wright

in 1.13.48. First lady home was Amy Greenhalge who ran an incredibly strong race finishing 6th overall in 1.23.40.

Martin Croad was in a superb 9th place taking 1.24.17. Tim Sibley was 14th, 1.28.01, Robin Britton 17th, 1.30.32, Mark Hilder 20th, 1.32.05 and Ian Clements 21st, 1.32.07. Then came the second lady overall Eleanor Wood 23rd in 1.33.43 followed by Steve Reynolds who was 31st, 1,40,42 and Margaret Pearce in her longest ever run 38th in 1.51.22.

The five mile run, covering just one of the laps, had three AVR runners - James Sibley ran really well to finish second overall in 46.47 followed by Rick Wood who finished in 5th place taking 52.47 and Siobhan Reddy 8th in 54.53.

As is customary at this race, we were all treated to soups and cakes a plenty. Many thanks to Robin Carter and her amazing crew for organising such enjoyable runs.

With 2012 drawing to a close the East Devon Community Race Series is now complete with AVR's taking the top five positions.

Phil Bayliss was the victor with 762.3 points. 708 points. First lady and 4th overall was Eleanor Wood amassing 704.7 and Alex Todd was 5th, 682.9.
